From the Corner Office

"Great vision without great people is irrelevant." – Author Jim Collins

"A small company depends on great people much more than a big company does." - Apple's Steve Jobs

These two quotes speak volumes about why PS&S is so passionate about recruiting and hiring the best people. We are a relatively small company with great vision, but without great people we will not succeed. That's why this month, as thousands of college graduates take their first career steps, we are focusing our newsletter on how PS&S recruits, hires and retains top talent.

FOCUS ON: RECRUITING NEW TALENT

Finding the best new talent is a challenging but critical component of any organization's growth and long-term success. At PS&S, Vice President of Human Resources Jamie McDonald knows hiring is as much an art as a science.
